Tasmanian Life

Art Mob advertises in a number of different publications as well as maintaining an extensive web site. Gallerist extraordinaire Max features in the June edition of Tasmanian Life posing diminutively in front of a Sam Juparulla Wickman painting in possibly Australia's oldest residence in waterfront Hobart.

Lawson Menzies auction

The recent Aboriginal Art auction in Sydney featured some superb works. Of special note was the huge Emily Kame Ngwarreye that exceeded $1,000,000. Whilst Art Mob currently has no stock of her work there are some superb paintings in stock from her younger brother Kudditji Ngwarreye who taught her to paint in 1989.

Jack Dale

One of Jack Dale's Wandjinas – Baby Dreamings paintings put Jack into a new price bracket at auction. Our Kimberley Personified exhibition last February still has some fine works featured and available – some painted using his rare blue ochre.

Cross Cultural projects

Many of you are familiar with the rugs produced in Kashmir from designs by artists from Fregon, Amata and now also Yuendumu. We now are stocking silver and ceramic jewellery produced in Peru from designs by these Aboriginal artists. Call us for more details.

Long Jack Phillipus

This famous artist who assisted with the original 1971 Honey Ant Dreaming on the Papunya schoolhouse is still painting some 35 years later. Art Mob has recently acquired 2 major works of his and they can be seen on our website.

Minnie Pwerle

These 6 paintings from 2004 have been specially selected for gallery stock. They celebrate the bush melon and bush melon seed ceremony performed by Minnie's people and depict ceremonial sites and body painting design associated with this ceremony. They are all 900 x 1200mm and priced at $9500 stretched.
