Collectables

What artists could be more collectable than those that Euan & Catherine have put into their own collection? Recent additions include Emily Pwerle, Fiona Omeeny, Sarah Daniels Napanangka, Helicopter Tjungurrayi, Maggie Watson, Dinny Nolan Tjampitjinpa, Barbara Weir, Alice Nampitjinpa and Pedro Wonaeamirri. We always have many works in stock to add to your collection!

IYA2009

It's the International Year of Astronomy this year. The night sky has been the subject matter of many indigenous artworks and we feature one the largest ever on the back of our newsletter. Dennis Nona's award winning etching from Telstra last year talked about Dugal – a star telling when it's time to harvest certain yams. Many of his works are astronomically related and this featured piece is about a lunar eclipse. Don't miss his blockbuster exhibition "Muluka Pyban" launching at Art Mob on June 19.

Tax incentive

50% savings on the price of a painting? Yes, thanks Mr Rudd. Check with your accountant as to how you can take advantage of this additional depreciation of up to 50% if it's for business use. For small businesses up to $2M you can start at $1000 and for large businesses the total purchase must be $10000 or more. Call us to help find the right painting or sculpture for your business.

Cliff Reid

It's a long time since September 2005 when we gave Cliff his first solo exhibition. Our relationship with his group, Papulankutja Artists at Blackstone, way out in the bush of WA, has flourished since and we regularly stock up with new paintings. It's nice to see Cliff recognised again with a solo coming up soon at William Mora Gallery.

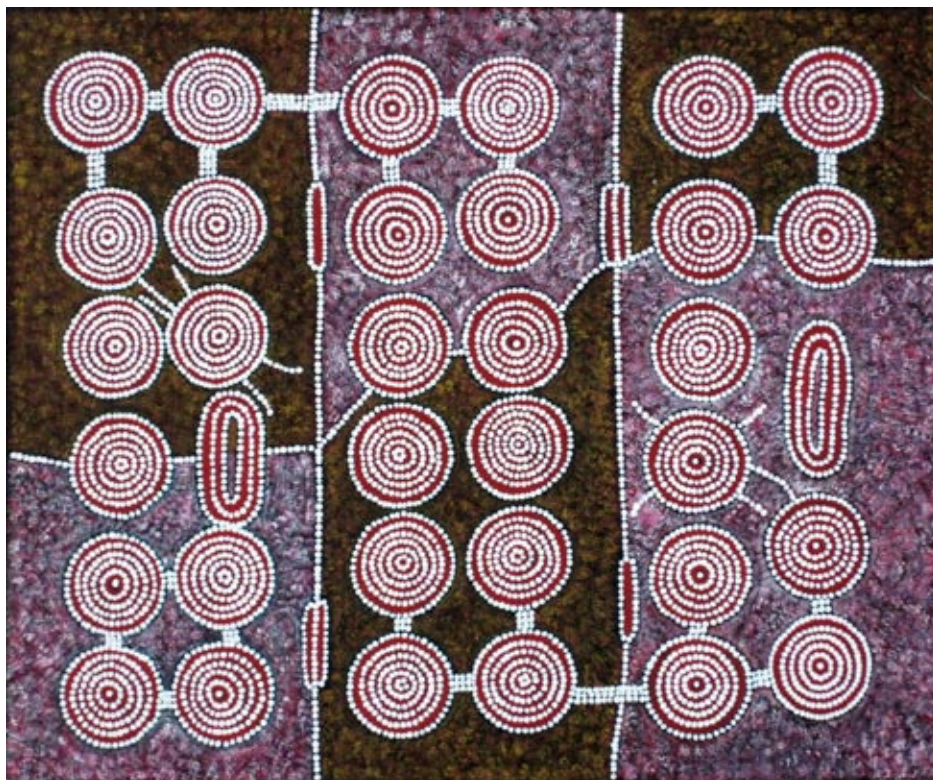

Papunya Tjupi

We have just received 10 superb pieces from this relatively new community art centre at Papunya. It's wonderful to see paintings from the next generation artists from those who initiated the dot painting in 1971/72. This featured painting is by Candy Nakamarra – the daughter of highly famed Johnny Warrangkula. Other artists include Tilau Nangala, Charlotte Phillipus and Lurline Sandy. You can see more on our web site.

Alison Napurrula Muita
Night Sky at Haasts Bluff
709 x 204cm $26,500

In this work Alison portrays the brilliant display of celestial objects visible on the clearest of nights at Haasts Bluff.

Walter Tjungurrayi Jugadai
Star & Shield People Dreaming 2009
Acrylic on Belgian linen 183 x 152cm $4100
This is the story of a place called Yarapilangu which is near New Haven.
This is Walter's Grandfathers country.

AM 6453/09
Joseph Tjangala Zimran
Waru Tjukurrpa (Bushfire Dreaming) 2009
Acrylic on Belgian linen 183 x 77cm $3500
This painting depicts the dreaming handed down to Joseph from his father, Smithy Tjampitjinpa Zimran, who originated from the Walungurru (Kintore) area. It depicts three massive bushfires travelling parallel with each other cutting through the landscape, leaving giant black scars as they burn through the tinder dry scrub spread across the sand dunes.
