Xmas gift ideas

Euan and Emma extend Seasons Greetings to you all and thank you for your continued custom. Check out Emma's Festive Season gift ideas on our web site. There's a host of items under $100 that might solve those difficult to find stocking fillers. We are always happy to find way more expensive items but can't guarantee that they will fit in a stocking... We've added PayPal to our payments options for those of you want added security with web transactions.

Susan McCulloch's visit

It was quite a change to have a guest speaker to officially launch an exhibition. Acclaimed arts writer and critic Susan McCulloch spoke enthusiastically of the Warlpiri paintings in our recent Warlukurlangu Wonders show. Signed copies of her Contemporary Aboriginal Art book are available from stock along with her 2009 Art Diary and Encyclopedia of Australian Art.

Dennis Nona

We have the last 4 of the editions of DN100 Puuni Pan (Lightning) and DN053 Awai Tithuyil (Pelican Constellation) in stock. Both have been extremely popular and are superb examples of his etching and linocut expertise. He has just produced some wonderful bronze Bu – trumpet shells. These are accessible in size at 160mm H x 400mm L x 180mm W and also in price at $7500 each. Numbers 3/12 and 4/12 of the edition are available from us now.

Local artists

Mick Quilliam and Ros Langford have both been painting solidly in recent weeks. One of Mick's Grass Tree paintings took just 3 minutes from its arrival in the gallery to sell to a lucky German visitor. Our web site has just been updated extensively to show the new works.

Desert Mob

Our acquisitions from the recent Desert Mob exhibition have just arrived and are available for purchase. Artists selected were Ruby Williamson, Tjaduwa Woods, Andrew Mitchell, Christobell Briscoe, Nyurapayia Bennett Nampitjinpa and Minyawwe Miller. Wonderful pieces!

Upcoming exhibitions

We have an exciting lot of exhibitions scheduled including Naive but Nice this month, Ikuntji Icons from Haasts Bluff in January, The Gang comes to Hobart with Lockhart River works in February and Mick Quilliam has another solo with us in March.

Born about 1943 in Pintupi country Ronnie was one of the first artists painting at Papunya in the early 1970's. His paintings bear little or no description as they feature secret and sacred imagery of events that occurred in Ancestral times in his country around Kintore, NT. His works have been collected far and wide - from the Louvre in Paris to the Holmes a Court Collection, the National Gallery of Australia to almost every Australian state art gallery. His recent paintings well reflect his great talent.
