TOURIST TAT & OTHER PROBLEMATIC, TOKENISTIC SPOTTY MEANDERINGS

This will be our first show for the New Year and was inspired by UK criticism of the "Australia" exhibition currently hanging in the Royal Academy in London. The indigenous component copped a walloping from Waldemar! The Sunday Times noted: "But Januszczak finds the inclusion of Aboriginal artists in the show problematic and tokenistic, lamenting that out of a tremendous indigenous tradition, inspired by an enormous natural landscape, our art world has "managed to create what amounts to a market in decorative rugs." "Opening the show with a selection of these spotty meanderings, and discussing them in dramatically hallowed terms, cannot disguise the fact that in most cases the great art of the aborigines has been turned into tourist tat." How inspiring for a response! Jeremy Eccles will be here to launch it on January 10th. How do you like the decorator rug?

STARRY NIGHTS

Alma Nungarrayi Granites from Yuendumu continues to amaze us all. Her initial Seven Sisters dreaming paintings were intricately dotted flat works. Then emerged the somewhat textured pieces that we featured in "Stars of Yuendumu" followed by a few deeply sculptured acrylic masterpieces. Her current loose style in turquoise and fuchsia will further establish her in the annals of art history.

NAMATJIRA MET THE QUEEN

And so too did Albert's grandchildren Kevin and Lenie on November 27th in London while visiting for the sell out Namatjira play. If it's good enough for Buckingham Palace then you too can be fascinated with views of the West MacDonnell ranges on your own wall. Check them out on our web site. Thanks to ABC for the image.

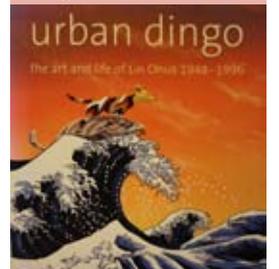

VALE GREAT ARTISTS

We were saddened to hear of the passing of Ningura Napurrula in early November at Kintore and Paddy Japaljarri Stewart at Yuendumu. They will be greatly missed by their communities, families and the art world. We offer our condolences to them.

URBAN DINGO & OTHER BOOKS

We always have a great selection of art and culture books for young and old. Some are very rare. For example, we have 2 copies of Urban Dingo – the art and life of Lin Onus. Be quick though! $200 each.

SEASON GREETINGS

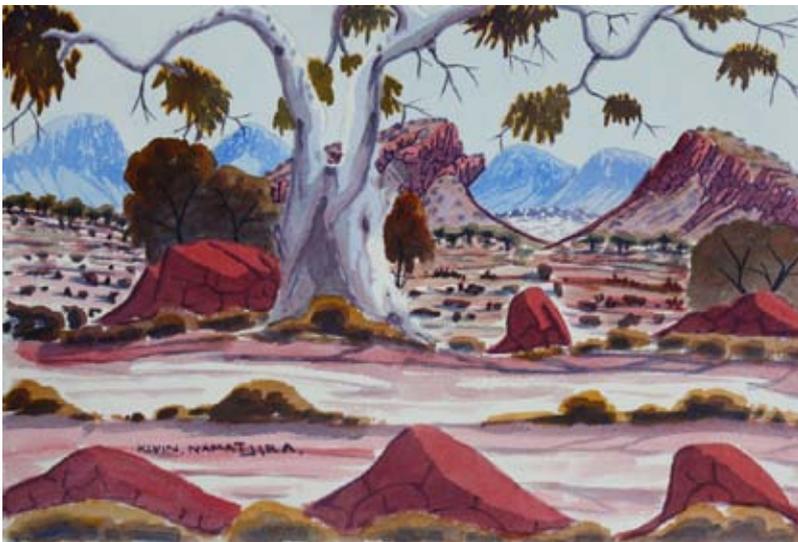

Euan & Emma thank you for your support in 2013. If you require ideas for the perfect Christmas present we have lots of wonderful items here! Choose something wonderful for your loved ones and we will make sure you receive them before December 25.

MICK QUILLIAM 'BACK ON TRACK'

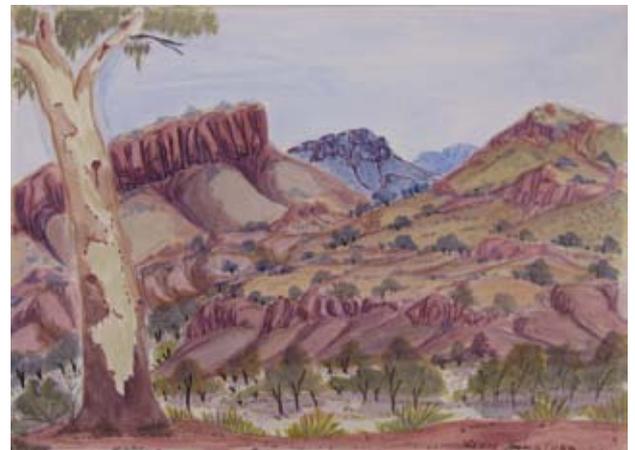

What a ripper of an exhibition! We are very proud of Mick and his sell out exhibition! We had no exhibition stock left on the walls after two days! Mick is very busy working on commissioned works from this show and if you would like to add to his list let us know! There are usually a few smaller works in stock so keep a watch on our web site for what's available.
