JULY 2014

TJANPI FIBRE SCULPTURES

Nine grass sculptures from Papulankutja Artists from Blackstone have come in from Tjanpi Desert Weavers. These artists gained renown when their Grass Toyota won the Telstra Art Award a few years ago. Need a quirky critter? Janet Forbes' porcupine features.

NYIRRIPI NOW 2014

Sam Jupurrula Wickman's glass and painting exhibition "Bundji" has moved to August so our July exhibition is a wonderfully bright show of desert paintings from the remote community of Nyirripi - about 160km west of Yuendumu in the Northern Territory. Art Mob was the first gallery to showcase a group exhibition from this place in April last year and it was a raging success! We are doing it again with another 24 well priced works. These are on our website now for early purchasing!

ANJOLU

December 2002 was in Art Mob's first year and it culminated with Anjolu Heather Umbagai's debut solo Australian Aboriginal art exhibition. Sadly, she passed away last year but her legacy lives on with a mini exhibition of some gems that she painted in 2003 that we have recently had consigned to us. Some take knowledge of the Kimberley to comprehend - others are just right there! Almost calligraphic, intruded borders, a deft play on perfect v. abstract circular elements - these are but some aspects of this fascinating artist's oeuvre. Mount Trafalgar features.

PAPULANKUTJA & WARAKURNA PAINTINGS

Blackstone artists Jimmy Donegan (featured), Anawari Mitchell, Walyampari Mitchell and Tjayangka Woods have all had paintings added to our stock as well as Warakurna artists Myra Cooke, Rachel Jennings and Joyce McLean. The art of the Ngaanyatjarra country is still relatively undiscovered but we always have the best stock!
