JUNE 2015

MARILYN DAVIES AT THE TREASURY BUDGET LAUNCH

This remarkable photo of the Treasurer Joe Hockey was taken in the Treasury Building in Canberra on Budget day. The brain waves are in fact part of a family tree painting by Arabunna artist Marilyn Davies (Clarke). She was delighted to feature nationally and a commission for a similar painting ensued. We carry a good selection of her works. Look them up on our website.

SALLY GABORI

We are delighted to launch "The Indomitable Sally Gabori" final showing of our stock of paintings by Sally Gabori who passed away last February. The exhibition features earlier works (2006 – 2010) by this very famous Mornington island artist. Art Mob was one of the very first galleries to promote her work to the world. Pat Corrigan's book "GABORI the Corrigan Collection of paintings by Sally Gabori" is available. Put 6pm Friday June 5th in your diary or view the works online. These are strong, very collectible paintings by one of Australia's great artists.

50% OFF SALE

Budget blues and the onset of the colder season drives us to extraordinary lengths! Our initial half price sale was a big hit with almost half selling so we topped that by issuing another 50 paintings at huge discounts. There are some superb purchasing opportunities there & if you've already missed out on a particular piece then don't be shy – ask if we have something similar or make us a reasonable offer on your selection from anywhere in our collection.

VALE DOUGLAS KWARPLE ABBOTT

We were saddened to hear of the recent passing of Mr Abbott who was a renowned Hermannsburg watercolour school artist. His depiction of the pindan coloured rocks of his West McDonnell Ranges region was a strong highlight of his paintings.

NONA X 2

Badu Island brothers Dennis and George Nona feature strongly currently at Art Mob. We have a collection of pearl shell dhoeries from George Nona hanging distinctively and our archival release of Dennis's prints is very active with works going worldwide. These prints are first in edition, proofs or literally the last available in the edition. The knowledge of culture depicted in these works clearly places the artist as one of Australia's leading artists. They are selling fast from our website so we'd encourage you to review this page fast if you'd like something special.
