Telstra Peoples Choice award

The very popular (large) linocut print Adhikuyam by Torres Strait islander artist Alick Tipoti has been announced as the public's favourite. Share his excitement by ordering your own print from us at $25,000. Or maybe choose one of his smaller and very collectable prints.

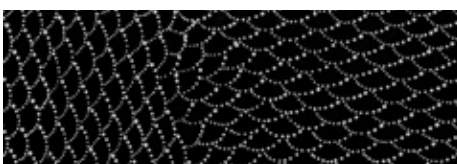

Eylandt to Island

The exhibition of contemporary art works from Grootte Eylandt was quite a success. The University of Melbourne exhibited their collection of 36 bark paintings in "Creation tracks and trade winds" in Melbourne from Sep 2006 to Jan 2007 at the Ian Potter Museum of Art. To the best of our knowledge these are the 2 history making exhibitions!

New works

Emma and Euan visited Alice Springs for the Desert Mob exhibition at Araluen Centre and spent up big. New works have now arrived from Martumili Artists, Mavis Nampitjinpa, Ronnie Tjampitjinpa, Iris Taylor, Doreen Dickson Nakamarra, Pansy Napangardi and Phyllis Ningamara. Some special works recently bought feature on the reverse page.

Yilpinji prints

This classic portfolio of 15 prints has now been unbundled so individual prints are now available separately. Full details are on our website.

Dennis Nona

It's now a year since we had Dennis's solo in Hobart. He's had numerous exhibitions since and is currently showing at Martin Gropius Bau in Berlin. Currently we have his wonderful Pelican Constellation print Awai Tithuyil hanging behind the desk. There are just a few left in this edition at $6500 each unframed or $7550 framed as shown.

Margaret Turner Petyarre

Utopia artist Margaret Turner passed away in July. Well known for her intricate body painting designs for Bush Orange ceremony she also painted striking bush leaf works and Mountain Devil Lizard works. We will miss her.

This is a popular dreamtime story of seven ladies being chased through the desert by one man. There are numerous scenarios as these ladies travel around. Eventually they rise up into the sky and form the Pleiades, a group of seven stars seen in the southern skies. There are many variations of this story.
